URGE CONTROL FOR REALTY SYNDICATE

Bankers Aroused to Danger to Investors, and Petition to Place Such Concerns Under Bank Commission Is Signed.

Legislature Is Urged to Take Steps to Provide Safeguards for Holders of the Unsecured Investment Certificates.

DEMAND PROTECTION FOR INVESTORS

THE Realty Syndicate, a corporation operating in Oakland, has succeeded in borrowing from investors, scattered all over California, a total sum of $4,323,689 on long-term promissory notes bearing high interest and not secured on property. Transactions of this magnitude are in danger to the whole business community because the failure of the syndicate would involve thousands in ruin and might easily be the cause of a general financial panic. This condition is all the more dangerous for the reason that many of the representations on which these loans have been obtained from thousands of investors are false and misleading in many particulars, so that the gravest suspicion is cast on the whole enterprise. To that end a petition is in circulation asking the Governor and the Legislature to extend the supervisory functions of the State Bank Commission to corporations of this character.

(San Francisco Examiner, November 21, 1904.)

The loose business methods of the Oakland Realty Syndicate and the fact that this corporation has contrived within a comparatively short period and by means of misrepresentations of fact to borrow $4,323,689 on unsecured notes from credulous or ignorant people serve to endorse the belief that institutions of this general character should be subject to official supervision. To that end and to secure some sort of protection for investors, a petition to the Governor and the Legislature has been put in circulation, asking that the same sort of supervision which the State maintains on banks and other corporations acting in a fiduciary capacity should be extended to these speculative concerns, which if permitted to run loose as at present may fall at any moment, causing widespread disaster and suffering to thousands who have loaned their money to concerns of whose business methods they have not the smallest knowledge.

It is a duty of the State to protect the people from dangers such as these, and that duty is fully recognized in principle by the creation of a bank commission and other similar supervising official bodies. This petition now in circulation has already been largely signed by bankers and others who are the first to recognize the dangers to the whole community that may easily result from the failure of a corporation engaged in borrowing millions without giving security for the money, and in doing this on false and inflated statements of the value of their assets.

TRIES TO BACK FIRE.

It is a significant fact that the moment the Realty Syndicate learned that a petition of this character was in circulation for signature, took the earliest moment to insert advertisements in some of the newspapers asking that the supervision of the State Bank Commission be extended to its operations. If this request is made in good faith there should be little opposition to this extension of the commissioner's powers, which is so obviously demanded by the circumstances.

In the meantime and until an official inquiry as to the business and assets of this corporation has been instituted, people are advised to be very careful.

JAPANESE DO NOT ATTACK.

Armies Still Face Each Other on the Field of Battle.

MUKDEN, November 21.—The anticipated general attack by the Japanese has not developed as yet. The uncertainty of the present situation gives rise to conflicting rumors and speculation regarding future operations. Some expect the Japanese to attempt a wide flanking movement on the Tia Pass and others claim the armies will practically winter in their present positions. Complete inactivity prevails. The nights are growing colder and fuel is scarce. Crowds of Chinese are wandering over the fields and roads picking up everything combustible, even the roots of Chinese corn.

NURSE SURRENDERS

GENERAL OKUS HEADQUARTERS, November 20, 4 p. m., via Fusan, November 21.—A Russian female Red Cross nurse entered the Japanese lines and surrendered, requesting that she be sent to Matsuyama to nurse a Russian prisoner. She said she was the daughter of a Russian colonel.

Her wish will be granted and she will be sent to Japan under the care of an officer.

ARTILLERY FIRE

MUKDEN, November 21, via Tien Tsin.—Since the Japanese failed in the attack which they made on Poutloff Hill, November 18, the old order of affairs has been resumed.

There are frequent skirmishes, particularly in the vicinity of the Russian center, where both sides have daily clashes.

There was an exchange of artillery firing during the greater part of November 20.

It appears that the affair of November 18 was a reconnaissance in force and that, had it been successful, it was to be followed by a general attack.

The Japanese got within thirty paces of the Russian outer positions before being driven back. They left over a hundred dead on the field.

The Russian soldiers are quite comfortable in their dugouts. The weather continues extremely cold, the thermometer recording 35 degrees of frost. The frost is accompanied by high winds which carry clouds of dust.

FRANK J. MOFFITT VERY LOW

GRAVE FEARS ARE ENTERTAINED OF HIS ABILITY TO RALLY.

Former Senator Frank J. Moffitt lies in a very critical condition at his residence, corner Filbert and Eighteenth streets. Within the last few days there has been a change for the worse, and he is now very low. His state is more precarious than ever before, and grave fears are entertained for his recovery. Dr. E. H. Woolsey and Dr. McConnell of San Francisco were in consultation to-day with Dr. Butrau, the attending physician, and it was decided to administer extreme remedies to keep up the heart action.

Prosecution Makes Opening Statement to Jury in Famous Murder Case.

NEW YORK, November 21.—

An element of uncertainty growing out of reports of possible changes in the make-up of the jury was the principal feature of the opening of the second week of the trial of Nan Patterson. Three days of hard work last week resulted in filling the jury box but at the last moment Foreman Hendricks asked to be excused from service because of the severe illness of a member of his family.

TRIAL RESUMED.

When the trial was resumed to-day Justice Davis declined to excuse Foreman Hendricks and Assistant District Attorney Rand at once began to outline the case of the prosecution.

During the trial two skeletons, one of a man and the other of a woman, will be brought into court to be used in demonstrating the theory of the lawyers. One of the skeletons will be used by the prosecution and the other by the defense.

There will be no testimony of handwriting experts at the trial, though there will be long periods during which evidence will be introduced to show the particular course of a bullet at close range.

A blackboard, diagrams and the human skeletons will be used in this connection. Whether Miss Patterson will go on the stand to testify in her own behalf has not been decided.

Lawyer Daniel O'Reilly, one of the attorneys for the defense, announced to-day that Miss Patterson's former husband, Louis Martin, from whom she was divorced several years ago, would appear during the trial. Martin is a hotel clerk and resides in Washigton.

WITNESS SICK.

Hyman Stearns, a pawnbroker, who has been spoken of as one of the principal witnesses for the prosecution, is seriously ill. He is the man who appeared before the Grand Jury and positively identified the revolver with which Young was shot as one which had been sold by him the day before the tragedy occurred.

The dull routine which always marks the preliminary stage of a trial in a capital case has been interspersed with several incidents closely bordering on the sensational, and it was expected that big crowds of spectators would clamor for admittance to the courtroom when the trial was fairly under way.

DEFENDANT A WOMAN.

Mr. Rand warned the jurors that in considering the evidence submitted in this trial they must not allow themselves to be influenced one way or the other by the fact that the defendant was a woman. The laws were made for men and women alike. He said that the only question before the jury was to determine whether the defendant was guilty of murder as charged. It was admitted, he said, that either Young killed himself, or was killed by the prisoner at the bar. The prosecution was prepared to show not only that Miss Patterson fired the fatal shot but that the act was one of deliberation and premeditation. They would show that the crime was planned for at least thirteen hours and that it was conceived a day before the tragedy when the pistol was bought. All this would be proven by circumstantial evidence and the chain of

JORDAN TO PAY DEBTS.

Supreme Court Clerk Makes Straight Statement in Court.

Frank C. Jordan, Clerk of the Supreme Court, appeared before Justice of the Peace Quinn, this morning in answer to an order of examination into his financial condition secured by E. Barnett, a money-lender. Barnett obtained a judgment against Jordan for the sum of $236.50 on a note bearing interest at 12 per cent per annum.

Jordan was represented by Attorney T. A. Keogh of San Francisco. Barnett did not appear in court, nor was he represented by counsel. After waiting considerable time for the appearance of the plaintiff or his attorney, Justice Quinn called the case.

Attorney Keogh said: "We are here, your honor, in response to the order issued from this court, but I don't see the plaintiff or his representative."

"No, apparently he is not here," answered Justice Quinn.

Attorney Keogh requested that Mr. Jordan take the stand in order to explain away the order of the examination.

"I want the court to be satisfied in this matter," said the attorney. "Mr. Jordan is here in response to the order and wants to enlighten the court on the matter."

Mr. Jordan, after being sworn, took the stand.

Mr. Keogh—You are the defendant, are you not?

"I am," replied the witness.

"You are here to show your ability to meet judgment in this case?" asked Jordan's attorney.

"Yes, I did not oppose the order," answered the witness. "I am glad that it was issued and I welcome it."

"What property have you, Mr. Jordan?" inquired the attorney.

"I have none at all," answered the witness, "except a few personal articles in the form of tokens."

"You have no real estate?"

"No, none."

"How much do you owe?"

"About $10,000 or $12,000."

"Have you ever sought to avoid your creditors?"

"No, such a thing is far from my intention. I will pay them just as soon as I possibly can, both principal and interest. I want to settle every single debt I have."

"How did you come to owe this money?"

"In 1892 or 1891, I have forgotten which, I entered the stationery business in this city. I was a young man then and not exactly familiar with the business. My venture proved a failure and I lost considerable money. I want to state that I have not sought to evade my debts under the bankruptcy laws or otherwise. Debts that have passed a statutory limit have been brought to me and I have continued them."

"Then you have not sought to avoid the payment of your debts by going into insolvency?" inquired the attorney.

"No, sir; I have not. My friends have come to me and advised me that I could go into bankruptcy, but I have steadfastly refused to do so, even when I believed I was on my death bed."

"When you were County Clerk, about what was your income?"

"About $6,000. Every cent I could get, I used to apply on my debts or interest."

"I believe you are now interested in establishing voting machines. What benefit do you derive?"

"I am doing a very large business. Reports from the company show, or at least they tell me, that I am doing a

GERMAN VESSEL CAPTURED.

Trying to Make Port Arthur With Load of Provisions.

SHANGHAI, November 21.—The former British steamer Thales, which was purchased by Germans, has been captured by Japanese warships while attempting to run the blockade of Port Arthur and taken to Sasebo. The Thales had a cargo of clothing, blankets, medicines and an enormous quantity of salt beef.

It is highly probable that the Thales is the German steamer Batelan which, as mentioned in a dispatch from Tokio today, was captured by the Japanese on the morning of October 19 while steaming for Port Arthur. The port to which the vessels were taken and the nature of the cargoes are exactly the same in both the Tokio and Shanghai dispatches.

A dispatch from Tsingtau, November 12 said that the Thales, which belonged to the Douglas line, a British concern, had been purchased by German residents of that place, given a German register and was then loading for Port Arthur. It is probable that the vessel was re-named the Batelan. The registers to date do not give a vessel of that name.

ANOTHER REPORT.

TOKIO, November 21.—The Navy Department reports the capture of the German steamer Batelan while attempting to run the Port Arthur blockade.

The department says at 3 o'clock this morning a Japanese squadron cruising off Yentao sighted a vessel steaming for Port Arthur. The gunboat Tatsu pursued and overtook the steamer at 5 in the morning. On board the vessel was found a great quantity of winter clothing, blankets, medicine and canned meats. Her captain said he was bound for Newchwang.

The route and cargo of the Batelan were considered suspicious and she was taken possession of and brought to Sasebo.

TEAMSTERS HAVE RETURNED TO WORK

CHICAGO, November 21.—The teamsters whose strike against the Furniture Manufacturers' Association was the cause of rioting in the downtown streets Saturday, returned to work today.

The employers signed an agreement with the drivers promising that there should be no discrimination against union members in the hiring of teamsters.

The employers also agreed to pay teamsters for two horse wagons $14 a week. This is an increase of 50 cents above the pay of last year.

WARNING FOR PROSPECTIVE INVESTORS.

Methods of Frank C. Havens' Realty Syndicate Made Plain by Statement of Men Victimized in Insurance Fraud.

(San Francisco Examiner, November 20, 1904.)

The operations of the Oakland Realty Syndicate are conducted by canvassers working on a large commission and borrowing the money of credulous people on promissory notes running for ten years and not secured on anything. The activity of these canvassers was rewarded in the past year by gathering in upwards of $400,000, borrowed on these unsecured promissory notes, which they call investment certificates. The total value of this unsecured indebtedness, according to the last statement issued by the syndicate, was $4,323,530.

Frank C. Havens is a past master of the art of working the country with the help of a large force of canvassers. He is general manager of the syndicate, and his methods in this regard are disclosed by the operations of the defunct Home Benefit Life Association, of which Havens was likewise general manager. The Home Benefit Life Association was one of those fraudulent assessment schemes of similar character and scope as the get-rich-quick swindles which the United States Government has recently branded as frauds and denied them the use of the mails. This company purported to deal in cheap life insurance, and every county in California and some outside of the State were covered with canvassers.

The methods of these canvassers are disclosed by the depositions in the suit which the policyholders brought to recover the money they had paid in money of which they failed to get a penny.

Here is an extract from the deposition of Charles T. Decker of Red Bluff: "The agent, Mr. Turbush, who induced me to enter into the transaction, represented the association as being founded on sound principles and to be in every way a very desirable investment for a laboring man or a man of small means."

James H. Page of Portland, Or., testified that Havens himself had persuaded him to go into the scheme. He says: "Representations by the secretary, Frank C. Havens, were made to me personally from time to time, and knowing well the managers and directors, gave me confidence to continue payments from year to year, and from circulars and representations printed and circulated by order of said directors. I was influenced to continue paying assessments."

"The representations were that the company was a perfectly solvent incorporated company, and there was a surplus available to meet all liabilities that might arise. It was personally represented to me by the secretary, Frank C. Havens, that the Home Benefit Life Association was an incorporated insurance company."

When it came to trial it was found that the company had not complied with the law regulating insurance companies and there was a serious doubt whether it had been regularly incorporated. One of Mr. Havens' favorite arguments is to point to the high character and business standing of the men associated with him.

This argument is worked by his agents for all it will stand in the business of borrowing money for the Realty Syndicate. It was worked with equal vigor and pertinacity by Mr. Havens' canvassers for the Home Benefit Life Association, as the following deposition by Herman E. Griffin of Ponoma will show: "As near as I can remember, the inducements made to me to join the association were the character of a standing of the directors and officers of the company, also the names of good business men who took confidence in the company and took out policies; also there being no big salaries to pay and the company would be run as economically as possible and the assessment would be less than in the old companies."

Nevertheless and notwithstanding the high character and business standing of Mr. Havens' associates in the Home Benefit Life Association, the concern went "broke" and the policyholders lost their money. Neither would the valuable and "respectable" business men associated with Mr. Havens put up a cent to help the losers. E. R. Jones of Shasta County deposed: "The agent told me it was a good thing; that it was the cheapest insurance I could get and was particularly in the interests of the policy holders; he gave me the names of the officers and directors of the company and told me they were all prominent business men of San Francisco and perfectly reliable; said it was gotten up on a different and better and safer plan than any other insurance business."

"Two of these agents, Stettin and Turbush, told me that the company was composed of men of unquestionable standing. I did not think men of such high standing would go into the business of swindling people or that they would pretend to have been legally incorporated when they were not."

What the agents really meant was that Mr. Jones was the good thing. There are a score of depositions to the same purpose, and they serve a useful purpose now to warn people who may be solicited to lend the Realty Syndicate their money on unsecured investment certificates, which promise to pay nearly twice as much interest as the savings banks can afford to give, and pay heavy commissions besides.

How they lend their money on these unsecured long-term promissory notes, which the Realty Syndicate terms "investment certificates."

TEXT OF PETITION.

Memorial to the Governor and members of the Legislature petitioning for regulations by laws for the Realty Syndicate and similar corporations.

"To the Governor and the members of the Legislature of California:—Gentlemen: For the better protection of the neglecting public and the good name of the State, your memorialists respectfully present the following facts as proof of the necessity for putting in force corporations assuming to act in a fiduciary capacity toward the public under the supervision of the Bank Commission. The additional safeguards should be provided by the law in the case of corporations that are systematically engaged in borrowing large sums of money from unscrupulous persons, giving no security whatever for the sums borrowed and making no accounting to the public or to any legally authorized person or body of their business operations."

"The peculiar operations of the Realty Syndicate, a corporation organized under the loose corporation laws of California for general speculation in real estate, stocks, bonds, etc., furnishes a case in point that calls for legislation, if not executive inquiry into the methods pursued and the character of the business transacted. This corporation now has agents in many States and Territories and even in foreign countries borrowing money on certificates, engraved and printed to resemble bonds, but which are in reality merely notes of hand without security of any kind."

FALSE REPRESENTATIONS.

"We are informed by persons who have purchased these certificates that they were induced to do so by false representations as to their character, they being made to believe that these certificates are secured by a lien on the property of the corporation."

"According to the printed circular purporting to be a financial statement recently issued by the president and directors of the corporation, the Realty Syndicate has outstanding $4,323,530 of these unsecured notes of hand styled certificates, which run for a term of ten, fifteen and twenty years and draw 6 per cent interest per annum."

"We are informed on good authority that the said Realty Syndicate pays its agents a commission of 15 to 20 per cent for selling these certificates. We are also informed that large numbers of these certificates have been sold to widows of mechanics, clergymen, school teachers and persons holding trust funds belonging to minors, and the estates of deceased persons."

"According to the showing of its officers the property of the Realty Syndicate consists exclusively of lands situated in Alameda County and in certain corporations."

"The lands, with a few trifling exceptions, are all mortgaged to banks and individuals and are subject to seizure under foreclosure."

"The stocks held as investment collateral by the Realty Syndicate are exclusively in corporations organized, offered and controlled by persons who control the Realty Syndicate."

"These stocks pay no dividends."

"With a single exception the property of all the said corporations is covered by mortgages to secure large bonded debts."

"According to the statement of its officers, the Realty Syndicate last year sold real estate to the amount of $721,024 and increased its indebtedness by $916,123 by selling certificates to the amount of $444,242.50 and borrowing on mortgage $216,650."

VALUE OF LANDS.

"Those lands are listed in the statement of the corporation's officers as worth $6,560,325.22."

"They are valued on the books of the County Assessor of Alameda County at $1,685,500."

"Against this valuation there are mortgages recorded in the Recorder's office of the county of Alameda to the aggregate of $1,304,026, leaving a margin of only $381,474 between the assessed valuation and the mortgage indebtedness."

"The persons in whose names the stock of the Realty Syndicate is held are unknown to the public. It is set forth in the statement of the officers that the capital stock is $4,600,000 fully paid up. Nobody knows who subscribed for the stock and paid in this enormous sum. No evidence is presented to the public that it was ever paid in, and the financial operations of the corporation afford no clue to what became of this $4,600,000, if it ever had an existence."

"Under the law as it now stands, the Realty Syndicate has the power to put beyond reach of the holders of the so-called investment certificates all the assets now listed as belonging to the corporations. No matter what is being done, the certificate holders are without recourse in law till their certificates fall due. They have no means of knowing what is done with their money. They are now absolutely without tangible security or legal protection."

SAFE GUARDS.

"The law requires all banking corporations to transact their business in such a way as to safeguard the depositors. They are required to periodically make a full exposure of their operations to commissioners appointed by the Governor of the State, or President of the United States. If they violate the law, bank officers subject themselves to severe legal penalties. If they conduct their business irregularly or dishonestly, the commissioners are empowered to take summary possession of the premises, books and assets that the public may be protected."

"Building and loan corporations are also required to periodically submit their books and papers and accounts to a commission and their operations are governed and kept within proper bounds by statute."

"Insurance companies are also required to make explicit statements to a commissioner, and to conduct their business in accordance with rules established by law."

LAW SHOULD APPLY.

"Your memorialists submit that the same laws should apply to such speculative corporations as the Realty Syndicate, which is constantly borrowing vast sums for which no security is given, by means of representations and misleading circulars disseminated by agents working on commission, and which is continuously dealing with itself under different corporate names."

"The person who puts money in a bank, an insurance company or a building and loan association is protected by law, but the holders of the Realty Syndicate certificates have no protection whatever."

"That four and a quarter millions of dollars have been borrowed without security by a single corporation from 8000 persons scattered over many States and countries shows how easily the present elastic corporation laws of California can be made to cloak continued and gigantic fraud, provided shrewd and unprincipled men choose to avail themselves of opportunities the law thrusts before them."

"We firmly but respectfully suggest that the Legislature should at once take steps to place all such corporate enterprises as the Realty Syndicate under the direct control and supervision of the Bank Commission and that proper laws be enacted for their management."

CINCINNATI, November 21.—Coroner Weaver to-day began an inquest in the case of C. A. No autopsy was held at the time of his death, as no request had been made, and the death certificate gave no cause of death, merely saying "inquest pending."

Dr. H. B. Grimes was the first witness examined. He said he called while Mr. Parker was dying. He smelled a pungent odor as of peach leaves. There was no convulsions. The witness asked what Mr. Parker had taken and heard a voice saying "Don't say anything," and he thought it was a woman's voice.

Miss Rose Hagerrin, stenographer, testified that she saw nothing unusual about him that day. She was the only woman present and had no recollection of hearing Dr. Grimes ask what he had taken, nor of saying, "Don't say anything."

Love Letters Found in Murdered Man's Pocket.

CHICAGO, November 21.—Search for the murderer of John Bate Jr., the young chauffeur who was found in an automobile near Lemont, was continued today.

The fact that the mysterious "Mr. Dove" who ordered the machine from the Auditorium Hotel, has not appeared to aid in solving the problem, caused the police to believe that beyond the slightest doubt the passenger with the checked suit and the red necktie is the man they are seeking.

That Dove had two victims is a new theory developed by the discovery of blood under the cushion of the rear seat of the automobile.

"Dove" is said to have made an arrangement with a chauffeur named McRae to go on a night ride to Joliet about four weeks ago. McRae thought he was a racketeer man.

Among letters found in the dead man's pocket is said to be one in a woman's handwriting which contains the words, "When I love, I love, and when I hate, I hate."

One of the letters is signed by Letta J. Hale, and was mailed in Auburn, N. Y. Miss Hale, however, is believed to be a Chicago girl who was visiting in the East.

The theory was advanced that the supposed "Dove," may not have been a man, but a woman in disguise.

circumstances as presented by the prosecution would be so strong that even if the defense should put a thousand men on the stand and each of them say he saw the man fire the shot the jury would not believe one of them.

Continuing Mr. Rand said:

"In this case we will take you to the scene and introduce you to persons who visit the racetrack and all night tenderloin cafes and patronize the roving cabmen. Young came to this country fourteen years ago from England and from that time he was always on the go from racetrack to racetrack, always making money. He possessed traits that a man ought not to be proud of but he had other traits that will recommend him to you. He was a fair gambler, who gave honest odds and never welched. He was a man of prepossessing appearance with a frank face and pleasing eye."

"He was singularly susceptible to the charms of women and it was easy for a woman to work her way into his affections. After meeting the woman who then called herself Nan Randolph, no matter where races were won and books were made, Young and Nan were to be found there together."

"In March, 1904, in his sane senses, at his wife's pleading Young decided to shake Nan Patterson. She was given $800 to leave him. I am compelled to show the relation that existed between Young and this woman. This evidence will not be milk for babies. Therefore let us be strong enough to face the truth, though we would far rather turn aside."

BATTLE WITH A MANIAC.

Insane Negro is Lassoed By the Police and Taken to Prison.

Alonzo Suggs, a colored electrician, suddenly went insane this morning at his home corner of Fifth and San Pablo avenues, and threatened the lives of his family and other persons.

For a week he had a baseball bat, and the police patrol was telephoned to and after a desperate battle with the maniac man succeeded in subduing him and taking him to the Receiving Hospital.

When Suggs saw the blue-coated policeman approaching he made a dash from his home, where he had been in complete possession for several hours, and took up a position on a chicken house.

He still had the bat in his hand, and warned the policeman not to approach.

Walters and Brown then tried to coax the negro to come down. He merely laughed at them.

The policeman then tried to scale the walls of the out-house, but were beaten back by the bat.

After attempting several pieces of strategy, the bluecoats resorted to the baseball bat. The policeman triumphantly jerked the crazy man's weapon from his hands.

He jumped after it, fell a distance of fifteen feet and was partially stunned. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital where his sanity will be inquired into.

LABOR TROUBLE IN CHICAGO

PRESIDENT CAMPERS WILL TRY TO SETTLE THE DISPUTE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—The delegates to the American Federation of Labor in their session this morning settled the trouble between the Chicago Federation of Labor and the American Federation of Labor by voting to uphold the decision of the executive board of the latter organization, with the proviso that William S. Hardt, president of the Chicago Federation and delegate to the American Federation of Labor, be seated, and a stop of execution of thirty days. He allowed during which time President Gompers is directed to go to Chicago, and confer with the leaders of the Federation there in an endeavor to adjust the dispute.

If no agreement can be reached the executive board of the Chicago Federation will then become permanent. This ruling sends the case to the American Federation of Labor.

WATER PLANT SHOULD BE SELF SUPPORTING.

Colonel Irish Says it Should Not Be a Burden to Taxpayers—Says Engineer Fitzgerald's Objections Remain Unanswered.

To the Special Water Committee, Oakland, Cal., Gentlemen:—I received your circular and card upon which to answer with submitted conclusions upon the two plans for municipal ownership of a water plant for Oakland. The brief time given and the restricted space seem to me to impair the value of such a test of public opinion, so I have thought best to give the matter a more extended discussion which it seems to deserve because of its importance. In discussions before various public bodies in Oakland, with Mr. McNab, Mr. Troy and others I have made known my belief that all bonds issued for municipal acquisition of public utilities, should rest upon the plant acquired, to be paid by the rate payers who use it, and not upon the taxpayers as such. If municipal ownership is to be a success there can be no possible objection to making it pay its own way, without exhausting the public credit. It is justly believed that the present city government of Oakland is of unusual integrity and intelligence, and it would vindicate the esteem in which it is held by beginning right in a matter of such high importance as this. Separate the municipal water plant entirely from public and make it an interest of the water rate payers only, by basing the bonds on the plant and the people will have reason for hoping that it will be administered purely as a business proposition, and not as an addition to the partisan assets of the town.

I put this first as I think it is fundamental. It is not a new thing. The bonds to build the San Francisco Ferry building are a lien upon it and its revenues which pay them, and not upon the taxpayers of the State or city. The same will be true of the sea wall bond soon to be issued. They rest all upon the plant they will create and will be paid by the users of that plant and not by the taxpayers. The pace has been set. Let Oakland follow it and avoid the evils which elsewhere have followed the public ownership of utilities.

In regard to the specific plans you submit I find nothing that answers the objections of Engineer Fitzgerald to the Bay Cities offer, and the language of your circular leaves much in doubt. It says this company "claims to own large bodies of land" on a watershed, and "claims the right to impound all the storm waters." In such a serious matter something more than "claims" is quite necessary, especially in view of the fact that the claims of the Bay Cities Company are disputed and are in litigation, and the courts have so far decided against its claims.

Your circular also says that this company "proposes by sufficient conduits to convey this water to the city boundary." In its former proposition, of which the present is a renewal, these conduits were to be of wood, which is surely not desirable.

The existing water plant, owned by the Contra Costa Water Company will be left in the field as a competitor, if the committee's plan is carried out. This is everywhere recognized as undesirable for numerous reasons. I think that every effort should be made to avoid such a mistake. Your report says that the Contra Costa Company has repudiated its agreement entered into with the council, to sell or lease to the city. I had not heard of such repudiation and it should rest on something more than circumstantial evidence. Of course it is incumbent upon the company to make its position publicly known.

Finally, the plans reported by the committee seem to me insufficient to meet the case, though I do not doubt that they are the best the committee could do in the time it was able to give to the subject. The matter is of such importance as to warrant great deliberation and the people should not rush to an insufficient remedy under the influence of prejudice against existing conditions. Very truly yours, JNO. P. IRISH, Oakland, November 17, 1904.

better business in this State than is being done in any other in the Union. I am making a good showing. The sales have been about $100,000."

"What has become of your commission?"

"I will explain. The voting machine business is new here, and it requires considerable money, and great activity to get it settled. My commission has been exhausted in going into every nook and corner in this State and introducing the machines. When I had a dollar to spare it was applied on the principle of the notes held against me."

"How much have you paid out on your debts?" inquired the attorney.

"In the last ten years or so I have paid out $12,000 or $15,000 in interest alone. I want to again assert that I have never sought to protect myself under bankruptcy laws. I have refused to do so and never will. I want to go down the streets of this city and say that I owe no man a cent and all my debts have been paid. I will say that in a year or so, I hope to pay every dollar that I owe. I want my creditors to understand this and I want those who have been criticizing me to understand it also."

"I want this to be my day in court. Let this be sufficient notice that I am not trying to defraud anybody. Political life has not been a source of profit to me as it has been to others, but I hope and have every reason to believe that within a year or two every dollar that I owe will have been paid. That is my aim and that's what I am working hard to do. The outlook is bright and I believe that I will soon be free from debt."

"You have heard the statement of the witness your Honor, do you care to ask him any further questions?" asked Attorney Keogh of Justice Quinn.

"No, I believe the matter has been well gone into," answered the court. "The order is hereby declared dismissed."

"You have heard the very frank statement of the witness, your Honor," said Attorney Keogh, "and I think you will believe with me that it satisfies the accusations made. I fully believe that this statement will stand once for all to face like orders that might be asked for."

TORPEDOES IN 1625.

Ben Jonson, writing in 1625 (if not earlier), foreshadowed the torpedo. The following lines are from his play, "The Staple of News":

Thomas Barber. They write here one, Cornelius-Son, hath made the Hollanders an invisible To swim the haven at Dunkirk and sink at the shipping there.

Pennycuik Jun. But how is't done?

Cymbal. I'll show you, Sir. It is a watson, runs under water, With a snug nose, and has a nimble tail Made like an auger, with which tail she Figgles.

Bewick. The costs of a ship and sinks it straight.

THE FRIGHTFUL COST OF WAR. According to Count Okuma, the ex-Prime Minister of Japan, the war with Russia is costing his country $5,000,000 a week, and the czar's Finance Minister puts Russia's expenditure at $6,250,000 a week. At this rate Japan has spent $190,000,000 and Russia $225,000,000 on the war since it began.

STANDS BY HER DENIAL.

Mrs. Van Horn Insists She Did Not Kiss the Student.

Further hearing of the Van Horn divorce case was taken up before Judge Ogden this morning and Mrs. Van Horn was subjected to a searching cross-examination by Attorney Johnson. She was on the stand nearly all of last Thursday, a part of Saturday and it is expected that her examination will hardly be completed before this evening. Little that was new was developed in the hearing this morning.

In his examination Johnson is going minutely over the occurrences of the night of January 13th of this year when it is alleged by Mrs. Van Horn, the husband, that through some porters he watched his wife with a student by the name of Adolph Knopf, and saw him take his wife in his arms and kiss her.

The time spent by Mrs. Van Horn in this room with Knopf, where they were coming from when they entered it, their motive in coming into it, how long they had been together, before they came into the front part of the house and numerous other questions of a like character are being put to the witness and her entire movements followed from the beginning of the evening until the scene at its close. In her direct testimony, Mrs. Van Horn denies absolutely the story of her husband further than she found him behind the curtains. She denies that Knopf ever kissed her or she him. This statement is denied by the cook, who testified that she had seen Knopf kiss Mrs. Van Horn on different occasions. She makes absolute denial of ever having been to the Chicago House with Knopf, or of knowing where the place is. In this she is contradicted by Josephine Brown, a nurse who once ran after Mrs. Van Horn when with Knopf in order to speak to her and they turned and went into the place. Mrs. Kelly, the keeper of the house, also says that she saw Mrs. Van Horn and Knopf in a room on three different occasions.

The cross-examination has been searching in consequence as it is a case of positive affirmation upon one side and its denial upon the other and it is to be left to Judge Ogden to decide from the evidence which side has been telling the truth.

MAKES A DESPERATE ATTEMPT TO DIE.

E. R. Sheffield Slashes His Wrists and Then Rings For a Surgeon.

Brooding over disgrace brought on him through his short time ago and a charge of obtaining money on false pretenses and worried by lack of money and illness E. R. Sheffield, who is well-known in county political circles, made an attempt on his life at the Touraine Hotel last night by slashing his wrist with a pocket-knife.

Lapping into unconsciousness the despondent man did not regain his senses until 9 o'clock this morning.

The sight of the ugly wounds he had made evidently caused Sheffield to change his mind about ending his life for he rang for a bell-boy and ordered a surgeon.

Dr. A. L. Larkey, who responded, found that Sheffield had almost carried out his original determination to die.

UNION MEN STILL IN SESSION.

Important Resolutions Are Passed By the Delegates.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 19.—Today's session of the American Federation of Labor occupied the time of the delegates for the first few hours in the consideration of some of the many resolutions presented. Upon several of these resolutions a vote was taken, notably on that introduced by the boot and shoemakers' union.

This asked the delegates to go on record as favoring to the sentiment that labor organizations are the true protectors of the non-unionist, and against the claims of citizens' alliances and manufacturers' associations, that they are the protectors of the rights and liberties of the non-unionist.

A resolution asking for back pay for government workmen was introduced by First Vice-President Duncan. It was adopted.

A number of resolutions to make the union label more effective were introduced and adopted. In this connection the delegates were urged to adopt a universal label and organize a league to further this end.

Proposition to ask the Secretary of Commerce and Labor to appoint an arbitration board for the settlement of all strikes was lost by a unanimous vote. There was but little debate on this question, the consensus of opinion being that the adoption of the measure would mean compulsory arbitration, and the speakers declared that labor had little to hope for from such a measure.

A proposed to establish workmen's banks throughout the country was lost by an attempt made by a delegate of the seamstresses' union to settle the question of trade autonomy.

Proposition to have labor unions all over the country invite members of local boards of health to lecture to them on the best means of eradicating tuberculosis was unanimously approved by the convention.

NOT SUCCESSFUL.

MICHIGAN, Nov. 19.—Another unsuccessful attack upon Fort Arthur was made November 19th.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 19.—The Japanese resumed their attacks on Port Arthur on November 17th making a furious assault which resulted in their occupation of underground chambers in important positions.

W. J. PETERSON DEFENDS POLICE DEPARTMENT.

Captain of Police Defends His Brother Officers—A Word About the Accused Men.

Editor TRIBUNE.—It is easy to kick a man when he is down.

It is not difficult to deliver sturdy blows when there is no resistance to be feared.

It is indeed so easy to judge with harshness and to say with the Pharisee of old, "O Lord I thank Thee that I am not as other men are." But it is to be remembered that the Great Master looked with more favor and pity upon the man who said, "God help me a sinner."

So while with invective, contempt and horror, our good citizens speak of the men who under the cover of their uniforms, robbed those whom they have sworn to protect, it might be well to stop a moment and think, before giving vent to righteous indignation.

While we contemplate with mixed emotion the acts of these police officers, who in the dead of night entered the places of business on their several beats, we have no measure of extermination to offer, but it is more sinful for a policeman to steal than any other citizen? Is he made out of a different kind of clay than a clerk in our State University, an officer of the Federal Government. Is there a halo of glory around the heads of our guardians of the peace, are their shoulders ornamented with the wings of purity? If not why should they be offered up to more contempt than other sinning mortals?

The police of our cities are placed in the way of more kinds of temptation than any other vocation. I know of the saloonkeeper who wants favor in violation of the law, will try to bribe him with cigars and drinks; the keepers of gambling joints and the sellers of pools, are willing to pay for protection, and in the red light district all are willing to pay for immunity from punishment. Every person who desires to break the law, and many of these hold places in our Federal, State and municipal governments, make it their business to try and secure the aid of those who are paid to prevent crime, and it is a great wonder that more of them do not succumb to the manifold temptations that the "push" politician, the grafter and the dishonest business man places in his way.

When our policemen are appointed to office is there an exhaustive inquiry into his morals or religion? Not that I ever heard of. After they have taken the examinations, that ensures that they have the full complement of legs and arms, their political friends as a rule do the rest, and you don't find the map of the New Testament spread over the greater part of the political influence these days.

So while we condemn with unsparring voice the acts of the four men who violated their trust, some who are shouting the loudest are living in glass houses. When our good citizens will take more interest in their police departments, when they get behind good men for officers there will be less cause for complaint than there is at present.

Should these men who have disgraced our city be punished? Most certainly, and indeed they are being punished with greater severity than any judge or jury could inflict upon them. Punished with the mental tor-

INTERNAL CONDITIONS OF RUSSIA.

Representatives of Provincial Zemstvos Meet Secretly to Give Report to Emperor.

ST. PETERSBURG, November 19.—Today may mark a red letter day in the Russian calendar. About one hundred representatives of provincial zemstvos assembled privately at 2 o'clock this afternoon with the avowed purpose of presenting to Emperor Nicholas through Interior Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky, a truthful picture of the internal conditions of Russia coupled with recommendations pointing out in plain terms the necessity for calling a legally empowered constituent assembly to have a direct voice in the government.

ARE EXCITED.

The word "constitution," however, will be carefully avoided. The liberals have been greatly excited by the developments of the last few days. The meeting was to be held at Duma, or City Hall, but at the last moment official auspices were refused, the Emperor withdrawing his consent.

Many of the Zemstvos representatives attribute the Emperor's decision to such reactionaries as Mordarsky, Strumner and Suchinsky. The two latter were formerly the late Interior minister, Von Plehve's assistants, who were promoted to the council of the Empire.

When Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky dispensed with their services the spectre of a constituent assembly was raised according to their view. They were not disposed to criticize Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, whose good intentions they do not question.

They believe he is powerless but nevertheless they express disappointment at the fact that he has yielded.

Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky's friends, rest and disturbance, resulting in an increase in the revolutionary propaganda, cannot continue.

TRACE HISTORY.

The course of Russian history will be traced to show the ebb and flow of liberalism and it will be contended that the liberal tendency of the government which began in the reign of Alex II was really checked after the Polish insurrection and only revived in the days of Louis-Meikent. The positive memorandum will recommend the calling of a constituent assembly as the best means of securing a legal expression of the views of the nation.

DEMONSTRATIONS.

The radicals and some student organizations had planned sympathetic demonstrations in front of the Duma in favor of ending the war and calling a national assembly, but with the place of meeting of the Zemstvos representatives secret, the demonstrations will probably not occur.

HE WAS SHOT BY ROBBERS.

CHICAGO, November 19.—Shot dead in an automobile by bank robbers, whose plot the victim most tragically had discovered and whose plans he had frustrated is one explanation of the mysterious death of William Bates, a chauffeur, whose corpse and machine were found on a lonely roadside today.

This theory was advanced by Bates' employer, after an investigation of the circumstances. The idea is that the men who hired the automobile were bank robbers and contemplated a raid on some bank in some small town.

Investigation at the Auditorium Hotel developed the fact that a man giving the name of "Dobbs" had appeared at the hotel last evening and had asked Edward Slavich, the hotel telephone operator to have David Canary send an automobile to the Auditorium entrance at once.

That Bates did not commit suicide but was shot down by an assassin is indicated by the finding of an empty cartridge shell today in the Torneau of the auto.

At the Canary Company's office it was said today that when the call was received last night a machine for two was asked for.

William Bates, the dead chauffeur, had been connected with the Canary company for several years and was well known as a fast driver.

CROWDS GATHER AT MOSCOW.

DEMONSTRATIONS BECAUSE ZEMSTVOS REPRESENTATIVES ARE NOT RECOGNIZED.

MOSCOW, November 19.—Demonstrations occurred here today owing to the refusal of the authorities to authorize an official meeting of the Zemstvos representatives at St. Petersburg. Crowds in the streets in front of the palace of Grand Duke Sergius, Governor-General of Moscow, shouted "Down with the Moscow Gazette," the only newspaper in Russia which is fiercely opposed to the Zemstvos. Later the crowd voluntarily dispersed.

The Zemstvos supporters here telegraphed to M. Shipoff, president of the Moscow Zemstvos, to make a final effort to induce the government to allow the meeting to be held under official auspices.

William E. Dargle, President.

According to the dispatches the President has tendered to Senator Cockrell of Missouri the position on the Isthmian Canal Commission made vacant by the resignation of Colonel Hecker, with the proviso that if the health of Senator Cockrell, who is past seventy, will not stand the climate of Panama a place on the Interstate Commerce Commission is open to him. This is a graceful and politic act on the part of the President. By the election of a Republican Legislature in Missouri Senator Cockrell, who has occupied a seat in the Senate ever since March 4, 1875, will be defeated for re-election after having served precisely the length of time his great predecessor, Thomas H. Benton, sat in the Senate. Ever since he entered the Senate, Mr. Cockrell has been noted as a safe, conservative, high-minded and patriotic man. He is a poor man. The tender to him by the President of an office of great responsibility and trust, in the hour of his defeat and his party's humiliation, is an act of magnanimity as well as a recognition of worth. It is an act that is peculiarly significant, coming as it does at this particular time, of the President's attitude toward the Southern people. It is a token of amity and good will. It ought to if it does not have a quieting effect on the ridiculous agitation in the South in regard to the President and the negro. Senator Cockrell is a Southern of Southerners—a Democrat of the old school and a general in the Confederate army. In his person he represents the South that was compelled to return to the Union forty years ago and the Southern Democracy that was taught such a salutary lesson on the 8th instant. The President shows at a time when he can well afford to be otherwise and while the provocation to be stern and resentful is fresh upon him that he is magnanimous. In his letter to Colonel John S. Mosby made public a few days ago he writes, "the attacks made on me in the South have saddened rather than angered me." The South let loose the genie of sectional strife and now stands in fear of the reprisals her short-sighted politicians have invited. It is plain the President does not propose to visit severe penalties on the foolish recalcitrants.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE CHURCH REFUSES LOAN ON BONDS OF STREET RAILWAY.

Banker Investigates Oakland Realty Company's Business and Decides That the Collateral They Offer is Not Safe.

San Francisco Examiner, November 20, 1904.

A prominent banker of this city had occasion some time ago to examine the value of the bonds issued by one of the street railroad companies controlled and managed by the Oakland Realty Syndicate. It was necessary to ascertain the value of these bonds, as they had been offered to collateral to secure a loan. The banker therefore made an examination of the business methods of the Realty Syndicate and in the course of that investigation he discovered among other things that the syndicate was paying as much as 40 per cent commissions for loans on the ten-year unsecured promissory notes which they call investment certificates.

These promissory notes on which the syndicate has borrowed, according to its own statement, $4,323,630, run for ten years and bear 6 per cent interest. If the 40 per cent commissions are added to the 6 per cent annual interest that makes 10 per cent per annum for the life of the loan. No legitimate business can stand a drain like that.

The banker accordingly concluded that the street railroad bonds were not safe collateral and refused to make loans on them. These bonds secured by mortgage on an established street railroad system should under ordinary circumstances furnish the best kind of collateral security for banking loans, but this banker concluded that the illegitimate business methods of the people in control made the risk greater than a conservative financier could accept. He therefore refused to handle any bonds secured on property controlled by the Realty Syndicate.

The street railroad bonds differ radically from the investment certificates. The bonds are, of course, secured by mortgage on the railway system. The investment certificates are secured on nothing. No banker anywhere would lend a dollar on them and further the methods by which loans are secured on these promissory notes are so unsafe as in the opinion of a careful banker to endanger the value of bonds which should be gilt edged were the control of the property vested in a safe and conservative management.

WHAT AMERICANS EAT.

It is figured out that in 1850 a hundred Americans ate 94 sheep, 113 hogs and 25 beefs. Whereas in 1900 they consumed but 50 sheep, 43 hogs and 20 beefs. Cheese has declined, but eggs and poultry are included with butter and milk as belonging to the dairy class, the consumption of that kind of food is three times what it was forty years ago. In 1850 one hundred persons ate 435 bushels of wheat and 20 bushels of oats. In 1890 they ate 623 bushels of wheat and 386 bushels of oats. In 1890 the breakfast food movement was small to what it is today. The general gain in vegetable expense is 80 per cent. Meat still remains the staple of the diet. Healthier in the half century which has seen this change, probably, however, on account of more air and exercise and better cooking and sanitation.

If one knows how to use knitting needles, a knitted vest will make a most acceptable gift for some baby. These are made about fourteen inches long by ten wide. An open pattern is chosen and silk or fine wool which comes for the purpose, is employed.

MISS EDNA WESTPHAL, ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL ORGANIZERS OF THE ENTERTAINMENT TO BE GIVEN FOR ST. COLUMBA'S PARISH AT FORESTER'S HALL, WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 23.

The people of St. Columba's Parish, Golden Gate, have been preparing for some weeks past for an entertainment and social which they are to give at Forester's Hall, Thirteenth and Clay streets, Oakland, on Thanksgiving evening, November 23. The entertainment will be given for the benefit of the parish and will consist of a variety of acts, including a play, a musical performance, and a social. The proceeds of the entertainment will be used for the benefit of the parish and will be distributed to the poor and needy of the parish.

POLITICAL PLAY AT MACDONOUGH.

GEORGE ADE'S CLEVER COMEDY WILL BE SEEN HERE TONIGHT.

The new attraction at the Macdonough Theatre tonight and tomorrow night will be George Ade's clever comedy drama, "The County Chairman," one of the most important productions of the year. The play is a comedy of manners and is set in a small town in Ohio. The story is of a man who is elected county chairman and who tries to use his position for his own benefit. The play is a clever and humorous satire on the political system of the time.

WHAT TO AVOID.

The girl who would be attractive must avoid loud talking, especially in a public place. Avoid slang—it may sound amusing, but it is anything but ladylike, and other people know it. Avoid making faces when she talks and cultivate a repose of countenance and manner. Avoid a loose air, and appear bright and interested in what other people are saying. Avoid making unkind remarks about a person not present, as other people will consider whether the same such things about them when they are also out of the way. Avoid unostentatious dressing or clothes evidently too elegant for her station or means. And, above all, have a cheerful face, although she must avoid the attribute of the "Cheshire Cat" in "Alice in Wonderland"—the cat who was all smiles—Philadelphia Ledger.

RECEPTION TO UNION MEN. EXCURSION TO SANTA CRUZ

COOKS' AND WAITERS' UNION TO HOLD MASS MEETING.

To-morrow night a reception will be tendered by the Cooks' and Waiters' Alliance No. 31 to certain prominent union men. T. J. Sullivan, President of the combined Bartenders' International League of America and the Hotel and Restaurant Workers' National Alliance, J. Sullivan, Secretary-Treasurer and C. B. Wiseman will be present and address the assembly. There will be at least four more well known unionists at the meeting, delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Labor in San Francisco. The affair will be in the nature of a mass meeting, to take place in Cooks' and Waiters' Hall on the corner of Eighth and Broadway. The Oakland bartenders are especially urged to be present, and all union men are invited. There will be eight prominent speakers, including President Perry of the Central Trades Council. Light refreshments will be served during the evening. The reception committee consists of L. A. Jones, George Walsh, and Ben Bolos, who are to be commended for their tireless activity in preparing for the event.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES.

Cranberry Fominy Creams—Boil a cupful of "small" hominy in sufficient boiling salted water to cover; when cooked (in about an hour) remove from the fire, add a tablespoonful of butter, half a tablespoonful of sugar, a small cupful of thick cream, a few drops of vanilla and a pinch of powdered cinnamon. Turn at once into a large shallow baking pan and allow it to become cold and firm; then with a round cutter stamp it into neat circles; arrange these on buttered lily-pans, heaping in the center of each a tablespoonful of thick cranberry sauce; cover with a meringue made from the whites of two eggs whipped with two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, and bake for five minutes in a quick oven. Serve with a rich custard sauce.

Cranberry Water-Ice—Boil a cupful of water and a cupful of sugar to a thick syrup; add a cupful of sour to the soft ball stage, then pour it slowly on the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs, stirring constantly. Add a pinch of cranberry syrup; mix thoroughly and pour into a mold lined with ice. Freeze in the usual manner, unpacking in the ice and rock salt for two hours before using. Garnish with small sherbet glasses and garnish with a few candied cherries.

Cranberry Sandwiches—Butter thin slices of whole wheat bread and spread with the following: Turn a glass of cranberry jelly into a bowl and beat with a silver fork, adding a tablespoonful of minced celery, a cupful of chopped chicken and a little orange-juice; cover with another slice of bread and with the cranberry jelly cut in triangles. Arrange them on a platter covered with a hemstitched dolly, garnishing with bunches of crisp watercress.

Cranberry Shortcake—Take one bowl of Royal prepared flour, one egg, butter size of an egg, and mix soft with sweet milk. Roll out in two thin crusts lay them together on a baking tin, first spreading a little butter between to prevent their sticking together. Bake in a hot oven for ten minutes. Spread with stewed cranberries sweetened. Shake powdered sugar over each piece in serving at the table.

Banana Fritters—On a dozen good sized bananas, each cut lengthwise in four pieces. Make a batter of one cup of sugar, one tablespoonful of butter, one egg, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one cup of milk, pinch of salt, flour to make a stiff batter. Dip the bananas in the batter and fry in hot lard. Dust with powdered sugar and serve hot.

HOME OF EMIL LEHNHARDT.

The above is of the handsome new residence just completed by Emil Lehnhardt, the candy man, on the northwest corner of Twenty-seventh street and Telegraph avenue. The home is one of the finest on a street of beautiful homes and no pains or money have been spared to make it all that the heart could desire.

It is a two-story house, the outside shingled and of rustic finish. The large living room down stairs and the most attractive room in the house is 34x16 feet in length and finished off in native redwood. One portion of it is raised and used as a library. The other rooms are finished off with hard wood floors which are covered with Persian rugs, some of them being of rare and antique pattern. The whole represents a cost of something over $20,000.

The house contains thirteen rooms and the bath and plumbing are of the most approved pattern. In this beautiful place Mr. Lehnhardt has taken up residence with his family and hopes to make it his permanent home.

CHILE DID NOT SELL WARSHIPS

NEW YORK, November 21.—In discussing reports circulated in Europe relative to the alleged sale of Chilean warships to Russia through Colombia a high government official says, according to a Herald dispatch from Valparaiso:

The news is absurd. It is unworthy of the slightest attention. In respect for international law, Chile occupies the same if not a higher level than some of the greatest world powers.

"It is quite as absurd to believe that Chile would sell battleships to a belligerent power as to suppose that the United States would sell some of her ships to Russia or Japan. Because Chile is placed on the South American continent is no reason to imply that she is a savage and uncivilized country just as, on the other hand, there could be no reason to assume that she was a civilized country because she happened to be located in Europe."

The butterfly bow or wisp of tulle is too pretty a neck finish ever to go quite out of style.

KEEP YOUR CONFIDENCE TO YOURSELF.

Watch Your Opportunity and Grasp it and Don't Say Too Much About it.

BY BETTY MARTIN.

Muzzle yourself whenever you feel the impulse to be confidential growing on you.

Don't unmuzzle until the attack has passed away.

Confidence, like the scarlet fever, usually leaves something in its train. "Silence is golden." Always in its train. "Silence is golden." Always in its train.

Don't talk about your husband. Don't talk about your wife.

Don't talk about your children. It is allowable, occasionally, to have a fling at your relations, but other people aren't really very much interested in your concerns. Besides, the "re apt to go off and repeat what you said, and might be tempted to alter the complexion of your words. The most tiresome people on earth are those who are continually talking about themselves.

Don't talk about your neighbors. They're certain to get back at you. Don't underestimate your powers. Be broad-minded.

Don't settle into a rut. The world is full of people who jog along all their lives in the beaten path, and never accomplish a thing worth mentioning.

Don't join their class. Get up steam and keep things moving at a lively rate. Don't establish yourself on a dead level. Take an interest in all that goes on about you. Remember that "variety is the spice of life."

Don't get prey. Better by a trifle silly at times than too everlastingly dull. Don't get discouraged. Keep a stout heart and have your guns well charged.

Don't be too meek. The supposition that the meek shall inherit the earth is a fallacy.

Don't be quarrelsome, but always stand by your colors. Have a judicious mixture of the lamb and the lion in your make-up.

Don't fret. Instead, count your mercies. Don't repine. Rather rejoice.

Don't whine. Laugh for a change. Don't think your lot in life is harder than the other fellow's. Every man knows his own bitterness and every man must bear his own burden.

Don't despair. The silver lining is sure to gleam through every cloud.

Don't fail to grasp the golden opportunity within your reach.

Don't allow your mouth to drop at the corners. Remember to look pleasant. "Vinegar never catches flies."

Don't hate too heartily. Don't love too well nor too wisely. Deep passions bring lines into the face.

Don't wear your heart on your sleeve. Someone may pick it if you do.

Don't believe all you hear. There are a few liars abroad in the land.

Don't think you deceive other folks. People generally are sharp-eyed and keen-witted.

Don't forget to smile. A smile is akin to sunshine.

Don't complain. Life isn't always a bed of roses, but make the best of things.

Don't go sniveling around. The meanest people on earth are the snivellers, who are always ready to impute wrong motives to others.

Don't get jealous. The green-eyed monster is responsible for untold crimes.

Don't forget to lend a helping hand. Other people may not be as strong or as courageous as you are.

Don't be too quick to anger. Try to forget it if you can't forgive.

Don't be too foolhardy, nor yet too worldly-wise.

Don't do those things which you ought not to have done.

Don't leave undone those things which you ought to have done.

Don't be late at the theater, and disturb others as you walk down the aisle.

Don't be self-conscious. Self-consciousness is only another form of conceit.

Don't be fickle, or hollow, or false, or untrue to your friends. Be steadfast to the best of your ability.

Don't pity yourself. Pity yourself on the back, and say that this is a pretty decent sort of world, after all, and that you're glad you're in it.

Don't forget that you're all against eternity.

BETTY MARTIN.

REPORT ADOPTED BY GRANGERS

PORTLAND, Or., November 21.—The report of the finance committee which has been unanimously adopted by the National Grange, now in convention in this city, consists chiefly in providing salaries for the officers of the national body.

The worthy master's compensation is fixed at $500 a year, $3 a day and expenses while away from his office; the worthy lecturer $400 and the same per diem and traveling expenses; the worthy secretary $1200 and expenses; the worthy treasurer $400 and expenses; the high priest and members of the executive committee $6 per day and expenses while engaged in grange work.

Seven thousand dollars is set apart as a lecture and extension fund to be expended by the executive committee.

A large audience withered the impressive and peculiar rites of the grange in honor of their departed brothers and sisters and tender memories were revived as tributes were spoken of those who had gone before.

Eulogies on the life and character of the deceased members were delivered by State Master David of Ohio, National Lecturer J. N. Batchelder of New Hampshire, National Treasurer Mrs. E. C. McNeill of New York, National Secretary G. M. Freeman of Ohio and State Master J. B. Ager of Maryland.

MONEY.

DO YOU NEED MONEY?
We will lend it to you, provided you have approved city or town property that you will pledge as security.

HOW MUCH YOU CAN GET.
We will lend you half the appraised value of such property, or maybe a little more.

HOW YOU CAN PAY IT BACK.
You can repay the loan in easy monthly installments, or in some other way which will be mutually agreeable.

WE AID TO BUILD HOMES.
If money is desired for the purpose of building a home, it is advanced in the following manner: One quarter of amount borrowed when house is up and under roof, another quarter when first coat of plastering is on, third quarter when house is finished and occupied, and the balance in thirty-five days after acceptance.

Enclose with the application one dollar for each one hundred dollars applied for, as a guarantee of good faith. If loan is rejected, money will be returned, less appraisalment fee, usually $2.00.

NO FIRE ENGINE FOR SUBURB.

GOLDEN GATE MAY HAVE TO WAIT UNTIL MORE MONEY IS APPROPRIATED.

The Board of Police and Fire Commissioners have laid over an ordinance passed by the City Council appropriating $5000 for the construction of a fire house in Golden Gate.

The ordinance provides that the building shall be constructed of wood. This provision in the opinion of Fire Chief Ball and City Engineer is an unwise one and the Council will be asked to provide enough money to construct the engine house of brick. The price of a brick building is estimated at $12,000.

George Bayless, a house mover, who is alleged to have torn out an electrical circuit belonging to the city while moving a boiler at Jefferson street and Second, recently was cited to appear before the board to be denied permits to move houses unless he gives a satisfactory explanation. Bids were received for painting the

THE TOILERS IN OUR FACTORIES

NO workmen in the world can do so much or use the same intelligence that our own American work-men and women are capable of. That is why America is now beating the world in manufactures; all due to the brain and muscle of our Yankee men and women.

Unfortunately where there is smoke, dirt and dust and little sunlight there also can be found the germs of disease. Nature's great disinfectant is sunlight. Sunlight and fresh air promote the growth of animals and plants, kill the germs of disease. Air, free from dust, such as we have on the sea, never permits the germs of disease to have any chance for growth and development. It is in the factory, the work-shop, the office, that men and women suffer from diseases which have in the past and are now killing the human race.

Such disease germs enter into the blood in two ways, either through the lungs or stomach. If the blood is pure and rich, the liver and stomach in healthy active condition, the germs of disease cannot find a resting place there to multiply. Diseases of the lungs, bronchitis and consumption, are very apt to spread through a factory where there is much fine dust in the air. The lungs become irritated and the germs find a fertile field for growth. Extreme weakness, feelings of nervous exhaustion, coughs and colds are the warning signals which should be heeded. One should put the system in the very best possible condition right away.

After years of experience in an active practice, Dr. Pierce discovered a remedy that suited these conditions in a blood-making and tissue-builder, which at the same time alleviates the cough. He called it Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—an alterative extract that assists in the digestion and assimilation of the food in the stomach—so that the blood gets what it needs for food and oxygen. The liver is at the same time started into activity and there is perfect elimination of waste matter. When the blood is pure and rich, all the organs work without effort, and the body is like a perfect machine; if, however, any part is allowed to rust, and this human machine does not get its full supply of rich red blood (which acts like oil on machinery), then new fields are created in which the bacteria or germs of disease thrive and multiply. The germs of grippe, malaria, catarrh or consumption find a fertile field if the body is not kept in perfect order and the blood pure. No man or woman can be strong or feel happy who is suffering from indigestion. Because the stomach is diseased there is a diminution of the red corpuscles of the blood. This is why one is sleepless, is languid, nervous and irritable. Sensitive stomachs groan aloud at the irritating Cod Liver oils, but they will get all the food elements the tissues require by using the "Golden Medical Discovery."

Mr. Roy A. Reed, of Casper, Wyoming, writes: "For eight years I had catarrh of the throat in the very worst form. I could hardly speak above a whisper for two years. Tried nearly a dozen patent medicines without relief. I was so discouraged that I had decided to give up. I was perfectly cured. It has been months since I took the last medicine, and I have not had the least return of my trouble. I have felt better during the past two months than for seven winters previous to this time."

Mrs. Lydia James, of Ogdensburg, Wis., writes: "In regard to your medicine I will say that the 'Golden Medical Discovery' is a God-send to suffering women. I was sick in bed with liver complaint and kidney disease and fever when I began to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. In ten days' time I was so I could begin to get around the house, and gained right along. After that, took about five bottles of it and am sure I would have been in my grave by this time had it not been for this remedy. I would advise all suffering women to use Dr. Pierce's medicine."

C. P. Spencer, of Plano, Okla., wrote: "I can hardly express my thanks for the medicine I have received from taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' They worked like a charm in my case. Am in better health now than for some time, and will continue to recommend your medicines to my suffering friends. I hope you will receive my thanks for the good your medicine has done me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the best laxative for old people. They cure constipation and biliousness.

WILL TALK ON

CATHERINE THE GREAT

The next lecture of the University Extension course, "The Home Club," will be held to-morrow evening at 8:30, when

Mr. Landfield will speak on Catherine the Great and the Partition of Poland.

The lecture is open to the public on a payment of 25 cents. Special seats will run from Twelfth street and Broadway direct to the club house via Fourth avenue. The date of the music concert at

The Home Club has been changed from December 12th to Friday evening, December 17th. Mr. Ovide Musin, the great violinist, will be assisted by Miss Grace

Misick, contralto, Marion Green, basso and

Mr. Ovide Musin, pianist. The opportunity to hear these artists of such inservably high reputation may be enjoyed by the public on the same terms as by members.

Warm and pretty dressing suits are knitted of soft worsted and bound with silk.

TEA

"Will you come-over to tea next Tuesday?"

"Delighted."

DINNER WASN'T READY, SO HE HANGS HIMSELF.

Husband Does Not Like Wife's Housekeeping, Becomes Angry and Commits Suicide.

NEW YORK, November 21.—Dissatisfied with his wife's house-keeping and finally throwing himself into a towering rage because dinner was not ready the moment he arrived home, John P. Zeigler, a furrier, has hanged himself at his home in the Bronx.

Mrs. Zeigler told the Coroner that although she tried hard to conduct the household to please her husband, he was never satisfied. She said he attempted to poison himself two months ago, and later tried to kill both by putting poison in the tea.

THE WORD "NEAR" TO GREET STATE AN ISSUE.

DIFFICULTY OF MAKING AN IN-TELLIGIBLE STREET CAR RULE.

The "stop-plates" along the route of the cars on Market street, San Francisco, were put there at the instance of E. R. Porter, of this city, who made that suggestion to the late Col. C. E. Crocker, when that gentleman was president of the company operating the Market street lines.

Other ideas of Mr. Porter have been met with that expectation regarding improvement in transportation matters. His latest recommendation is to be adopted as will be noted below, in this correspondence.

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 16, 1904.
"Mr. G. F. Chapman, General Manager, United Railroads of San Francisco, 'Dear Sir:—I think the word 'near' is ambiguous in your order posted on street-car windows, a copy of which I have been given on page two, herewith. 'You will note that I suggest what I consider a better term, 'nearby.' 'F. R. PORTER, Oakland, Cal.'"

NOTICE TO PASSENGERS.
On and after November 22, 1904, all cars will stop at the intersection of the street and the near crosswalks of intersecting streets; except where stop-signs or stop-plates are displayed.

G. F. CHAPMAN,
General Manager.
This car will halt for passengers at only:
1. Stop-plates; or
2. The first crosswalk of any intersecting street.

November 15, 1904.—United Railroads of San Francisco, G. F. Chapman, General Manager, "Rialto Bldg., San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 15, 1904.
"Dear Sir:—I thank you for your letter of the 14th inst., and the suggestion therein, relative to our new 'passenger' stop-signs. The suggestion is a very good one. It will be taken out of the cars in a few days, when a new notice will be put in their place, which will be substituted in which we have arranged to explain clearly the meaning of the word 'near,' so far as it applies to a 'stop-sign.'
"Very truly yours,
"G. F. CHAPMAN,
General Manager."

HARLOW REPLIES
TO CAPT. PETERSEN

Referring to Captain Petersen's comment upon Mr. Harlow's humorous story in last Thursday's TRIBUNE, the latter replies as follows:

"I regret that Captain of Police Petersen took my squibs on the late police and not on the article in the TRIBUNE. I am a light vein and were not intended as a reflection upon the members of the police force, many of whom are my personal friends, and whom I know to be men of irreproachable character. I do not know Petersen personally, but cannot help but think that if he had been more watchful over the men under him the now disgraced officers would not have been fugitives from justice."

UNCLE JOE—I told you it wasn't apathy; it was contentment!

URGES WORK ON THE STREETS.

INDEPENDENCE SQUARE DIS-TRICT IMPROVEMENT CLUB WOULD HURRY REPAIRS.

A regular meeting of Independent Square District Improvement Club was held Friday night at 222 Thirteenth avenue. President Welch presiding.

Reference to the journals and letter book showed that requests for sidewalk and street work made as far back as April, 1903 had provided no visible results. Considerable complaint was made of the apparent lack of interest manifested by some of the officials in the requests of this club for needed improvements, and on motion the secretary was instructed to forward a communication to the chairman of the Street Committee of the City Council, requesting his assistance in pushing the following work:—sidewalking where not already done, repaving and repainting of streets between Thirteenth and Fifteenth avenues; repaving and repainting of streets between Fifteenth and Seventeenth streets; also repaving and repainting of streets between Seventeenth and Nineteenth streets; also repaving and repainting of streets between Nineteenth and Twenty-first streets by public contract.

Mr. Welch also requested to consider the matter of repairing the crosswalks at Thirteenth and East Twelfth streets, which are outside the limits of this club, but much traveled by its members. The street committee reported that the gutters in this district had not been cleaned since the last autumn, and requested to do that work as early as possible.

The great need of a cash basin at the intersection of Thirteenth and Fifteenth streets, and the cleaning of certain streets and avenues, was also discussed. Mr. Welch also requested to consider the matter of repairing the crosswalks at Thirteenth and East Twelfth streets, which are outside the limits of this club, but much traveled by its members.

The club adjourned to meet December 22 at the same place.

PUTTING IT STRONG

BUT DOESN'T IT LOOK REASON-ABLE?

This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought, by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable or practically so. But we have long since shown that this is a mistake, and that it is a curable matter as at first appears.

The trouble with Dyspepsia is that they are continually dieting, striving themselves, or going to opposite extremes, or using deleterious remedies, and thus making the already overburdened stomach with "biters," "after-dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply makes it more worse. What the stomach wants is a rest. Now, how can the stomach become rested, recuperated and at the same time the body nourished and sustained?

This is a great secret, and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy but its success and popularity lead us to doubt as to its merits.

The tablets will digest the food naturally, regardless of condition of stomach.

The sufferer from Dyspepsia according to direction, is to eat an abundance of good, wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal, and the result will be that the food will be digested no matter how bad your dyspepsia may be, because,

as before stated, the Tablets will digest the food even if the stomach is wholly inactive. To illustrate our meaning plainly, if you take 1,800

grains of meat, eggs or ordinary food and place it in a temperate of 98 degrees, and put with it one of Stuart's

Dyspepsia Tablets it will digest the meat or eggs almost as perfectly as if the meat was enclosed within the stomach.

The stomach may be ever so weak,

yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the food and brain will be properly nourished and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of Dyspepsia will be made because the much-abused stomach will be given to rest. Extent of much more. Your druggist will tell you that of all the many remedies advertised to cure

Dyspepsia none of them have given so complete and general satisfaction as

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not least in importance in these hard times is the fact that they are also the cheapest and give the most good for the least money.
